RC SPECIFICATIONS

• The signal call of the Frankfurter atomic clock can be received in large parts of Europe as far as 2000km. The reception of the signal depends on signal propagation and local interference.

-  GMT+1/CET
-  not suitable due to different time zone

• All countries out of reach of the atomic clock's signal can use the radio controlled clock as a normal Quartz clock.

RC SETTINGS: GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

• Getting started: When required batteries are installed, the hands will start and stop at 12:00 position the device will start receiving the rc signal (will take 3~10 minutes). If receiving successfully, the hands will find their correct time and work normally

• Automatic receiving of everyday: under the condition of normally running, there are 14 times of force receiving the signal: AM 1:00, 2:00, 3:00, 4:00, 5:00, 7:00, 9:00, 11:00 ; PM 1:00, 3:00, 5:00, 7:00, 9:00, 11:00.

• If signal is not received, try a position closer to the window for first signal

• After the initial failed receiving: after 10 minutes of initial failed receiving the signal, the clock will start to run from 12:00. It will enter into force receiving at every o'clock.

• After continuous fail receiving signal: the clock's position is out of reach of the transmitter or signal is too weak. (singal blocked). The clock will continue to run the previous incorrect time. Use the m-set button on the movement (only certain models) to handset the clock.

DISPLAY

To stimulate the strong concept presentation we have designed a display that will enable all retailers to present Karlsson exactly like we intended. Even customers who have no wall space can create the desired clock wall, with this multifunctional display.

As you can see it is a wall display, but by putting two displays with their backs together, you can create an island display. At the bottom of the display you have the opportunity to store the clocks, so customers can take the clock to the counter.

WANT TO KNOW MORE ABOUT ALL OF OUR DESIGNERS? VISIT OUR WEBSITE: www.karlsson-clocks.com

PACKAGE DEALS

To fill up the displays we offer a fine selection of package deals. These package deals represent different styles/categories of the Karlsson collection. The display will be delivered for free in consignment. So all you have to do is pick the package that suits your stores assortment best.

These packages are just some examples of how the display can be filled. Please contact your sales office- or representative in case you want to create your own package deal.
